

Brain Research – Ask the Scientist!

Ever wondered what ground-breaking and exciting brain research is going on in Ireland? Well now is the time to find out!

Join us for a stimulating afternoon –

Saturday 13th April (1pm –4.30pm)

Science Gallery, Trinity College Dublin

– when scientists from throughout Ireland will present their research to a public audience in just 5 minutes! You, the audience will vote for what you think is the best presentation – based on how engaging, entertaining and informative the speaker is.

This will be followed by an opportunity to ask the scientists any question you have about the brain and their research....followed by a chat over a cup of tea & cake.

Free event but booking required through Eventbrite (see link below)
